Message from the President

by Bob Northcraft, President, Dallas Chapter, Sons of the American Revolution

The Constitution of the United States is the supreme law of the United States of America.

The first three Articles of the Constitution establish the rules and separate powers of the three branches of the federal government: a legislature, the bicameral Congress; an executive branch led by the President; and a federal judiciary headed by the Supreme Court. The last four Articles frame the principle of federalism. The Tenth Amendment confirms its federal characteristics.

The Constitution was adopted on September 17, 1787, by the Constitutional Convention in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, and ratified by conventions in eleven states. The first ten amendments are known as the Bill of Rights. The Constitution has been amended seventeen times (for a total of 27 amendments) and its principles are applied in courts of law by judicial review.

The Constitution guides American society in law and political culture. It is the oldest charter of supreme law in continuous use, and it influenced later international figures establishing national constitutions. Recent impulses for reform center on concerns for extending democracy and balancing the Federal budget.

All of this information about our US Constitution begs the question, why, oh why, do we as American Citizens' allow our Constitution to be shredded almost daily.

Without Law there is no Liberty!

volunteer program that has welcomed home thousands of U.S. soldiers from Iraq and Afghanistan at the Dallas-Fort Worth International airport has come to an end. The last flight bringing soldiers home for two weeks of rest and recuperation landed Wednesday March 14th, greeted by a cheering crowd. Volunteers have welcomed home soldiers from each of the 2,700 chartered R&R flights since the very first one on Nov. 2, 2003. The airport estimates that 920,000 soldiers have been personally greeted by volunteers. The flight arrival times varied day by day and so did the number of volunteers who greeted each flight. Sometimes there were as few as 30 greeters; sometimes there were more than 300.

Americanism Trivia Quiz (from January-February Issue): Why did the British begin a southern offensive in 1778 in Savannah?

Despite the failures at Trenton, Princeton and Saratoga, the British still fielded five substantial armies in North America. British generals also concluded, however, that their focus on the northern colonies had been misplaced, and that their true base of loyalist support lay in the South. Georgia and the Carolinas contained significant numbers of Tories, allowing the British forces to operate in somewhat friendly territory.
