Mission Statement

The Sons of the American Revolution honors our Revolutionary War Patriot ancestors by promoting patriotism, serving our communities and by educating and inspiring future generations about the founding principles of our Country

President's Message

By Bob Johns, President

The Events of June 1776

June 1776 was momentous for the American Revolution.

On June 11, Congress appointed a committee to draft a Declaration of Independence. Thomas Jefferson, Benjamin Franklin, John Adams, Roger Livingston and Roger Sherman were chosen. Jefferson was selected by the committee to draft a Declaration which he reportedly completed in one day. On June 28, after review by the committee and some minor changes, the committee presented the draft to Congress.

On July 2, 12 of the 13 colonies had approved the Declaration with only New York abstaining. The document was formally signed August 2, 1776, after New York's approval July 9 made the document unanimous.

The document signing that we celebrate in July as the founding of our country contains words all Americans should know:

"We Hold These Truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable rights, that among these are Life, Liberty, and the Pursuit of Happiness."

Endowed by their Creator, not some monarch, and unalienable rights. Words never expressed nor heard anywhere in the world before now associated with the establishment of a nation.

Let's celebrate as often and as well as we can.

MEMBER APPROVED FLAG PRESENTATIONS

The Summer Issue of SAR Magazine contains NSSAR Goals to be fully implemented by the National Organization, State Societies and Local Chapters. Among those is increasing the issuance of SAR Flag Recognition Certificates.

To refresh your knowledge of Flag Certificates, “The SAR Flag Certificate is presented to individuals, companies, and government agencies that fly the United States flag regularly and properly for patriotic purposes.”

Previously, the Chapter President was required to sign a Flag Certificate prior to issuance. To make Flag Certificates easier to award and to involve the Chapter Membership in general, the President General has now delegated authority to award Flag Certificates DIRECTLY to every Chapter Member!

That means any of us who observes neighbors, businesses, etc who fly the flag regularly can award that person or business a Flag Certificate. Simply send VP Alan Roach the entity’s name to place on the Certificate, sign it when you receive it from him and award it to the deserving party at your convenience.

How about each of us make an effort to award at least one certificate a year starting this year!

A Special Item to Mark the 40th Anniversary of the
Plano Chapter of the SAR

The Plano Chapter #37 of the SAR observed its 40th Anniversary in 2025. To celebrate the event, the Chapter Board commissioned a Commemorative Celebration coin intended to both recognize our anniversary and to enhance our budget funds as a fundraiser.

The coin is a full color 2” antique brass coin. The front shows a rendering of the famous Minute Man sculpture by Daniel Chester French, presently standing in Concord in recognition of the Battle of Lexington-Concord. The reverse celebrates our chapter and gives our founding date.

This impressive coin is available to all chapter members for a $20 donation to the chapter. Donations will enable our chapter to fund even more of the activities and awards we engage in to support veterans, youth awards, public service awards and more.

Please consider making your donation this calendar year. Personally, I have purchased five of the coins to use for recruiting awareness and for recognition.

Make your donation check payable to Plano SAR Chapter #37 and send it to Treasurer Ronald Carey at 5504 Overland Drive, The Colony TX, 75056. You will receive one of the coins in return.

Let’s make this a successful recognition program and fundraising opportunity.

This free exhibit features a gallery of art prints that vividly depict the chronology of the American Revolution and illuminate the colonists' struggles, triumphs, and sacrifices in their quest for liberty. Discover the motivations that ignited a desire for freedom and explore the socio-political climate that compelled ordinary people to rise against the world's most formidable empire. Learn how the media of the day--pamphlets, newspapers, and broadsides--united the colonists in their cause, galvanized support for independence, and framed the narrative of the war.

Kids who visit the Brown House and participate in an educational activity will receive a collectible patch.

44 Revolutionary War Soldiers Finally Laid to Rest After 250 Years

The remains of 44 people believed to have been associated with the Continental Army were interred Wednesday at a new memorial in Lake George Battlefield State Park in upstate New York, 250 years after they likely died of smallpox at a military hospital on the southern shore of Lake George.

A motorcade of nine Korean War and Vietnam-era military trucks reportedly carried the 44 wooden caskets 60 miles north from the New York State Museum in Albany to the park along Route 9 on May 20. Members of the NY-Penn Military Vehicle Collectors Club operated the trucks, with New York State Police leading the procession and Patriot Guard Riders providing a motorcycle escort.

Four of the lead caskets were draped in flags, three with the Grand Union Flag, and a fourth had the flag of the 1st Pennsylvania Battalion—the only unit positively linked to the burial site through artifacts recovered with the remains.

Construction workers digging an apartment building foundation on Courtland Street in the village of Lake George in February 2019 uncovered the remains. By the time the crew reported the discovery to the Warren County Sheriff's Office, they had already relocated roughly 70 dump truck piles of soil from the site.

Beneath the disturbed ground in the Lake George village was an 18th-century cemetery. Graves had already been badly disrupted by the excavation.

"We weren't able to properly recover complete individuals. It was pieces, bits and pieces of people," Lisa Anderson, curator of bioarcheology at the New York State Museum, told Spectrum News, which has reach throughout Central and upstate New York.

Anderson supervised the recovery alongside Charles "Chuck" Vandrei Jr., the Department of Environmental Conservation's (DEC) preservation officer, who championed the re-interment effort before his death. More than 100 volunteers worked with museum and DEC archaeologists over the course of 15 months, sifting through excavated soil to recover bone fragments and artifacts.

Julie Weatherwax, a bioarcheology technician at the state museum, spent nearly a year reassembling more than 800 loose teeth into individual dental records to establish the minimum number of remains buried at the site, according to WRGB, the local CBS affiliate in Albany.

Most of the caskets were placed directly into the memorial upon arrival on Wednesday, while four were taken to a nearby church for safekeeping ahead of a public dedication ceremony scheduled for May 22.

The Patriot Guard Riders provided a motorcycle escort for the 44 Revolutionary War soldiers interred at Lake George Battlefield State Park.

Members of the NY-Penn Military Vehicle Collectors Club, escorted by the New York State Police, transported the remains to the Lake George Battlefield State Park.

The memorial, called "Repose of the Fallen," sits on a knoll along Fort George Road in the park. The project cost nearly $700,000, paid for with a New York State Downtown Revitalization Initiative grant and private donations. The design includes secured columbaria, a seating area, interpretive signage and a memorial plaza.

Karl Remmers, president of the NY-Penn Military Vehicle Collectors Club, called it "an extremely high honor to transport the remains of 44 Revolutionary War soldiers."

The soldiers are believed to have died during one of the earliest and most costly operations of the American Revolution.

In the fall of 1775, roughly 10,000 Continental Army troops from six colonies launched the Quebec Campaign, an invasion of British-held Canada aimed at seizing Montreal and Quebec City.

The 1st Pennsylvania Battalion was among them. Raised in Philadelphia in late 1775 under Col. Philip De Haas, the battalion marched north with roughly 500 men to reinforce Col. Benedict Arnold in Canada.

An assault on Quebec City on Dec. 31, 1775, ended in defeat. By early 1776, a smallpox epidemic was ravaging the retreating army.

Soldiers too sick to march were transported by boat to the southern end of Lake George, where the Continental Army had established a hospital at Fort George.

Several thousand sick and wounded passed through that hospital. Up to 1,000 of them died and were buried in unmarked cemeteries in and around what is now the village of Lake George. The 44 individuals found on Courtland Street account for only a small portion of those losses.

Anderson told the Town of Lake George that most of the dead were young, "in their teens and twenties, indicative of military aged persons."

Forensic artist Jenny Kenyon produced a facial reconstruction of one soldier, depicting a teenager, using 3D-printed scans of a recovered skull. She worked with faculty at the Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, according to the New York State Museum.

Anderson also identified two children, ages 6 and 10, among the remains. Families sometimes accompanied soldiers during the war and their presence among the dead was not unexpected, she said at a 2024 ceremony, according to the Lake George Examiner.

Uniform buttons recovered from one of the partially disturbed graves bore the insignia of the 1st Pennsylvania Battalion, confirming that at least one of the dead had served with the unit during the revolution.

The discovery also helped spur the New York Unmarked Burial Site Protection Act, signed into law in 2023, which requires anyone who finds human remains during ground disturbance to stop work and report the discovery, with criminal penalties for noncompliance.

The memorial's formal dedication is scheduled for 11 a.m. on May 22 at Lake George Battlefield State Park, just ahead of Memorial Day.

Regarding his Patriot Ancestor
Andreas Daniels

My patriot, Andreas Daniels (Daniel), was born January 25, 1757 in Bethel Township, Berks County Pa, which is northwest of Philadelphia PA. He was a Private in the Pennsylvania Militia and his commanding officer was Lt. Nicholas Seybert. To the best of my knowledge was “mustered” into service in 1781. I have no evidence of any battles where he was engaged. He lived a full life and passed away on May 25, 1841 (84 years old). He is buried at St. Peter’s Cemetery in Dauphin County, PA near Harrisburg PA.
